And many of the Samaritans of that city believed in Him because of the word of the woman who testified, “He told me all that I ever did.”

We Welcome You!

We are honored that you chose to visit with us today. We hope that you will stay around a few minutes after our service to become better acquainted. We are eager to know you! We hope you will come to see us as we see ourselves, a group of people who desire to live and love like Jesus.

If you seek meaning and purpose in your life, we invite you to come and join us as we study God's word, the Bible, and find the true joy and fulfillment that can only be found in Him. Our doors and hearts are open. So, if you've been thinking, praying, searching, and hoping for a place to belong, we say again—welcome!

“The Woman at the Well”

In the text of John 4:6-42, we find a very interesting woman engaged in conversation with the Lord. By and by Jesus tells her to go get her husband and return, to which she replied, “I have no husband.” After Jesus tells her about her five previous marriages and subsequent living condition with a sixth man, she is astonished and goes to report these things to the townsfolk. We will not concern ourselves with the morals or lack thereof, of a woman who lived 2000 years ago. Our knowledge of her situation is at best limited and even careful discernment would not elevate us to a position whereby we might render judgment. Her judgment is not the point. To her credit, this woman was responsible for many people believing in Christ.

To be sure, God is quite capable of using both good and evil to bring His will to fruition and even the evil plans of men “somehow” still bring glory to his Son (Philippians 1:12-18). Here we have a sinful woman, vs. 18, of no great significance, who is manifesting a quality which saintly Christians try to maintain, sometimes with great difficulty, namely the zealous cry that “I have found the Christ.” Because of her zeal, which to her wouldn’t have seemed extraordinary, she brought many to the Lord. Because of her, Jesus didn’t just pass by.

I am told by many in meetings and literature and symposiums that the world doesn’t want conversion anymore. Perhaps. I am also told that the church is declining in numbers and effectiveness because of such change. If the church experiences decline it won’t be because Satan has overpowered God, it will be because good, decent, born-again Christians wouldn’t declare “I have found the Christ.” It is not a mathematical marvel that each member could take 12 full months, win one soul, and double the membership in one year. The marvel is why it doesn’t happen all the time. Let the church the world over contemplate the life and the response of the woman at the well.
